Can this be an office? This Parisian inspired space, kicked off by the black and white damask fabric in the draperies, is a modern twist on a classic look. A hit of contemporary pink adds life and fun to the space. But it's not all about style; it's all about function.

With two distinct zones, this office allows work to happen with efficiency and provides space in the sitting area for contemplation or client meetings. This space sparkles with a mix of traditional and contemporary lighting. Lots of storage for the "stuff" of business is key.

Staying organized in this space is a breeze and who wouldn't be productive in this beautiful office designed with business in mind.
